THE FINANCIAL AND BUSINESS SITUATION.—The New York Herald, generally well posted, says that the financial and business situation though it cannot be considered encouraging, is still sufficiently so to make it possible for the country to ride over the very dangerous crisis without lasting injury.

Dry Goods generally have been marked down in New York, Philadelphia and other commercial cities.

The only trouble seems to be about the currency—the means wherewith to transact business. Yet there has been no actual contraction—that is, the Government has not withdrawn any of the circulating medium. On the contrary, it has rather enlarged it by an extra issue of greenbacks and through increasing the fractional currency by the new silver coinage and issue. The increase of gold through importation within the last few weeks to the amount of ten millions has also augmented our resources for trade. There is, then, more currency than before the crisis, and when everything was going on swimmingly. The question is, therefore, will this currency be about again as the crisis passes away? Let the banks unlock their coffers, and the people empty their stockings and all will be well.

There is no use of shutting our eyes, however, to the gloomy prospect ahead. In addition to what we have previously noticed, it appears that in Philadelphia thirty thousand men are out of employment. Pittsburgh reports thousands of hands idle. The railroads in Pennsylvania are stopping works and improvements. Many other railroad companies are suffering heavily from the severe money pressure. All over the United States we hear the cry of distress.

FAIRS.—The Virginia State Fair, at Richmond, is represented as having been a complete success. The address of Governor Vance is highly spoken of and elicited frequent rounds of applause.

The Weldon, N. C. Fair was also a grand success, 7,000 persons said to have been present. The annual address, delivered by Gen. Ransom, was a grand effort. The old officers were re-elected for the ensuing year.

The Hickory Fair, according to the Press, was a domestic fair in its fullest sense—no foreign goods displayed. Some three thousand persons were present. Gov. Vance delivered the address, which is highly spoken of. Financially, the whole fair was a decided success, and the ladies' department, (Floral Hall) was admirable. The exhibition of stock was creditable.

A tournament came off Thursday evening. J. B. Baker was the successful tilter, and crowned Miss Lelia Board, of Hickory. A. C. Link withrew in favor of J. A. Dickson, who crowned Miss Mattie Rankins, of Salisbury. J. E. Cline was third, and crowned Miss Fannie Black, of Hickory.

OPR. M. C.—Hon. Wm. M. Robbins called on us Monday, looking remarkably well. He informed us that he had been traveling over this Congressional District recently, and ascertained that the wishes of a large majority of his constituents were in favor of retrenchment and reform in the administration of the National and State governments, and heartily sick of the present miserable state of political affairs.

God speed the day of our deliverance from a President who costs the people $50,000 a year, besides a splendid house to live in, splendidly furnished with all the conveniences and luxuries of a prince, to say nothing of the smaller fry officials who cost the people ten times more than they are worth.

So We Go.—Late Washington dates inform us that the estimate for the support of the Indian bureau is seven millions, an increase of two millions. The estimates for the War Department for the next year show an increase of nine millions. This includes three millions for the Engineers Department, and one million four hundred thousand dollars for fortifications.

DEATH OF GEN. WILLIAM HARDEN.—Gen. William J. Harden, of Selma, Alabama, died at Wytheville, Va., on the 6th inst. He was a graduate of West Point, distinguished himself in the Mexican war, and at the outbreak of the late civil war went over to the Confederates, where he acted a conspicuous part. Since the war, Gen. Harden has lived in comparative retirement. He frankly accepted the results of the conflict, and labored to restore good feeling between the once hostile sections.

DEATH OF MRS. LEE.—The newspapers announce the death of Mrs. Robert E. Lee, the widow of the late great chieftain. Her health had long been very delicate, with no hopes of her recovery. Her remains were deposited by the side of her husband in the memorial room. Mrs. Lee was 67 years of age.

Southern Claims.

The Committee of Southern Claims will meet about the middle of December in Washington to report on some twenty-five hundred claims, being three or four hundred more than last year. There is upwards of one million dollars involved, the former award being about nine hundred thousand dollars. About one-third of the claims have been disallowed, owing to the law which requires proof of continuous loyalty.

The term of the commission has been extended four years from the 10th of March last, but prohibits any further petitions from being filed, and declaring all petitions not filed before the 10th of March last, forever barred. It is understood that many claimants thus excluded, intend to avail themselves of the constitutional right of petition. Their petitions will be referred to the Committee on Claims, and will, it is thought, ultimately find their way to the Commission. Deducing the twenty-five hundred claims to be reported on, about 20,000 remain on hand to be adjudicated. There is much dissatisfaction on account of cutting down the amounts respectively claimed, but in every case the Commissioners have made a written report for the information of Congress and the claimants. The United States and Mexican Commission have acted on three hundred and sixty-six cases, presented by Mexico, claiming indemnity to the amount of $26,000,000 on account of Indian raids into Mexico. The Commissioners disagreeing on these claims, the question will be submitted to Sir Edward Thornton, the Umpire.

Senator Thurman's Speech.

Senator Thurman recently delivered a sensible and forcible speech at Columbus, Ohio, from which we make the following extract:

"There can be but two great parties in a Republic, neither of which can hold power in perpetuity. The genius of Republican institutions and sound common sense forbid that. When the rulers elevated to power by a party misbehave, that party must give way to its opponents. If the rules chosen by the latter in turn do wrong, the other party will be restored to power. This is the true idea of party responsibility, and the only really effective mode of reform. In a free country there will be parties, for all men never did and never will think alike. The party in the ascendant rules for the time, but it holds its power upon the conditions that it shall rule honestly and wisely. If it fail to fulfill these conditions, it must yield up the reins of government. This is precisely the state of the Republican party to-day. Whatever claims to merit it may have had in the past, its rulers have ceased to govern wisely and well. The people no longer have confidence in them and the time is not far distant, I think, when this want of confidence will bear its proper fruit."

This is all true, and it is high time the country finds this policy to be the active one. It makes but little difference which party was in power and conducted the war, if that party proved corrupt and failed to govern wisely and well since that time, its days should be numbered. The back pay salaries of the public officials is enough to damn any political organization, no matter what precedents may be cited in extenuation of the act. It is wrong, and two wrongs cannot right the matter.

COMPLIMENTARY.—Thanks to the Executive Committee of Farmers' Council of Virginia and North Carolina, for an invitation to be present at the annual meeting of said Council, to be held in Petersburg, Va., on the 25th inst.

We make the following extract from the President's Address:

"You cannot be ignorant of the great movement which is going on in the North-west. The agricultural classes seem, at last, to have caught the spirit of the age, and are organizing in their might for the protection of their own rights and the promotion of their own welfare. The Farmers' Council is one division of this vast army enlisted in the same good cause and fighting under the same banner. We wish to enroll and equip for the contest all who sympathize with us in the objects contemplated."

The tillers of the soil have ever been the great tax-paying, burden-bearing class in society. Our object is to ameliorate the condition of this class by organization and education, by the collection and dissemination of ideas and aggregation of capital, by promoting the formation of clubs in each neighborhood, and societies in each county and district, by making our voices heard in the legislative halls and councils of the nation, by demanding our rights and redressing our wrongs.

Though the Council was only organized last November, much good has already been accomplished through its agency; but the great work is still before us. Other classes, which from time immemorial have lived upon the sweat of our brow, are watching with jealousy this movement. If we are to be relieved from thralldom, we must have the council and co-operation of the best minds in those Commonwealths."

We are also under obligations to the Secretary of the Fair of the Carolinas, for a complimentary ticket to the Fair, to be held in Charlotte, from November 25th to the 29th. See notice in another column.

DISCHARGES CONTINUE.—New York dates of the 8th, show no improvement in business. Two hundred and thirty men were discharged last week from the lumber yards in Greenport. One hundred laborers were discharged at Long Island city. One hundred cabinet makers were discharged in the same city, 450 men from the Brooklyn City works, and 300 men from the Prospect Park improvements. The rubber comb factory at College Point, L. I., have reduced their time to 4 days per week, employing 600 men.

The Legislature meets next Monday and will probably sit till the latter part of February or 1st of March. Now is the time to subscribe for the Press. $2 a year, $1 for six months and 50 cents for three months.

The Late Elections.

Last week's elections in Virginia, New York, Maryland, New Jersey, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Kansas, and even Massachusetts, show large Conservative gains over previous elections.

We give below the views of some leading papers on the result of the elections: Baltimore Sun, Independent Conservative: It seems, however, to be conceded by intelligent leaders of the party in the country that on the whole the elections so far as heard from are less favorable to the Republican cause than was anticipated. On the other hand the New York Herald, Independent, speaks of the result as a general collapse. It regards the late elections as drifting in the same general direction as the Ohio election, and as giving more local localities and general public indifference concerning them, the developments of the financial pressure, and the alarming tendencies of official corruptions awakening the public mind to the necessity of change.

The New York Tribune considers that "the large promise of the administration party a year ago has been utterly unfulfilled, and the honest masses, not ready yet in their disgust to go over entirely to the opposition, have contented themselves with a tacit register of their protest by staying at home and voting not at all."—The World, Democratic, looks upon the result as a great Democratic victory. It is quite possible, however, that the large falling off in the Republican vote in States which have lately voted, is, as intimated by the Tribune, a silent protest of entire dissatisfaction with the administration in the Republican ranks which may hereafter take the shape of actual opposition if the party in power does not hereafter make its practices conform more faithfully to its promises.

HARD TIMES.—Everybody is complaining of "hard times and worse to come." The "tight times" affect almost every business interest in the country, and although we do not anticipate any real distress in this section, yet it would be well for the people to husband every resource at their command and try to pay their debts, and thus help each other along. These financial troubles have been brewing for a number of years, and are not, as some suppose, the result of unforeseen or accidental occurrences, beyond the control of the ablest financiers. The trouble is the result of over trading and iniquitous speculations in which some of the most reliable men in our large cities allowed themselves to become hopelessly entangled, and of course when the trouble came were unable to hold up.

The politicians were aware of the approaching trouble last fall, and endeavored to and really did injure Mr. Greeley's prospects of election by the cry that it would bring on a financial crash. Gen. Grant was elected, and whether his election brought on the crisis or not we are not prepared to say, but we all feel its presence, more or less, except the President, who is making just $25,000 more annually than he did a year ago, Congressmen, too, do not suffer very much as they are getting an increased salary. So we see that after all the fuss, last fall about the danger of Greeley's election, we have the trouble upon us even after his disastrous defeat. Who is to blame, is hard to tell. All we know is that the salaries of the public officials are increased and the people have to economize in every way just to make "both ends meet," so that these lazy fellows can enjoy their increased pay. This is Republican economy with a vengeance.

Important Decision.

In the Circuit Court of the United States in the cases of George W. Dillard and others, bankrupts. In these cases the creditors having docketed judgement, obtained decrees in State courts directing the lands of their debtors to be sold to satisfy their judgments. Afterwards the debtors filed petitions in bankruptcy claiming the homestead exemption of $2,000 each. Judge Underwood, of the United States District Court, entered orders allowing these exemptions. The creditors took the cases to the United States Circuit Court by petition.—The decision of Judge Underwood was over-ruled by Judge Bond, who decided the following points:

1. Where suits are pending in State Courts before the commencement of bankruptcy proceedings, if there be no suggestion of fraud, and no interest of general creditors will be prejudiced, the bankruptcy court ought not to interfere with the jurisdiction of the State Court.
2. When the bankrupt has made a deed of trust to secure creditors, he is not entitled to any exemption out of the property conveyed until the deed is satisfied, even although the deed be adjudged fraudulent as to creditors by the State court.
3. When the proceedings in bankruptcy were commenced before the passage of the amendatory act of March 3rd, 1873, the bankrupt is entitled to such exemption only as was allowed by the laws existing at the time the proceedings commenced.
4. The amendatory act, so far as it is declaratory of the intention of the act of 1867, is void.
5. The rights of the bankrupt, and of his creditors, are fixed according to the laws in force when the bankruptcy proceedings commenced, and no subsequent legislation can affect them.—Rich. Whig.

GENERAL NEWS.

A Woman torn to Pieces by a Bear.

A horrible event occurred in East Newark recently, on the road to New York and about a mile from the Hotel. An Italian by the name of Botocini, who travels about the country with a performing bear, had occasion to go to New York yesterday to make arrangements for lodging his bear for the winter. His wife, who went about with him, not feeling able to wait so long a distance, said she would wait for him by the roadside and tend the bear during his absence.

Botocini, although believing the animal to be harmless, took the precaution to tie it securely to a water-pipe on the meadows with a strap which was fastened around its nose. The Italian then left his wife and started for New York. Retaining about noon he found the bear growling fiercely and holding his wife tightly in its arms. It was with the utmost difficulty that he succeeded in making the animal relinquish its hold, but the woman's life was extinct.

All her clothing was torn off and the bloodthirsty beast had its mouth full of pieces of her dress. Botocini, after lifting the body out of the bear's reach, ran to the hotel after help, and a man who returned to the scene of the tragedy with him disparted the bear, after firing at him several times with a rifle. Strange to say, the animal was not untied, neither was his muzzle off when he committed the horrible deed.

An Icelandic Anniversary.

Next year the Icelanders are to celebrate the one-thousandth anniversary of their settlement on the island. Speaking of this fact, The Correspondence from the South takes occasion to relate what is known of the early history of the country. Iceland is said to have been discovered accidentally by a Dane named Gardar, who in crossing the sea from Scotland was overtaken by a storm and driven on to the Icelandic coast. Shortly afterward a Norwegian, known as Naddod, was also driven to the coast by a tempest; and in 866 another Norwegian (Floke) came upon the island, lived there over a year, and gave it the name it has borne ever since. In 874 a permanent settlement was effected by a murderer (Ingulf), who, having been banished from Norway for his many crimes, went to Iceland and founded the first settlement almost on the spot where the present capital, Reykjavik, now stands. Several other Norwegians and Danes soon followed Ingulf's lead, and the population increased rapidly. Some of the inhabitants discovered Greenland, and others, it is claimed, penetrated as far as this continent and discovered Massachusetts. Apropos to this, it is not generally known that Ole Bull, the famous violinist, is now making a collection for the erection of a monument to his countryman, Leif Ericson, a Norwegian and a resident of Iceland, who is credited by many with having set foot on American soil four hundred years before Columbus. There is reason to believe that there is some foundation in fact, for the claims of these Icelanders, and it has long been believed that Columbus knew of the journeys of the old Norwegian and Icelandic navigator and profited by his knowledge.

The Western Corn and Pork Crop.

The Chicago Commercial Review publishes a table of reports received by a provision house of that city from correspondents in Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Ohio and Indiana, in inquiries in regard to the number of hogs likely to be sent to market from their sections, their present condition, probable time of marketing and the condition of the corn crop. Of 97 points in Illinois 68 report a less number of hogs than last year, 27 about the same number, and 12 more. The corn crop is universally reported short in Illinois from one-third to one-half. Of 58 places in Iowa 27 report fewer hogs than last year, 25 about the same, and 11 more. The condition of the corn crop they report about the same as in Illinois. Of 21 points in Indiana 11 report fewer hogs, 7 about the same number, and 3 more. The corn crop they report better in several places, but generally short. In Missouri 12 points report fewer hogs, 8 about the same number, and 3 more. The corn crop they report one-third to one-half. Ohio makes the best showing, 4 points reporting an increase in the number of hogs, 15 about the same number and 8 a decrease. The report of the corn crop shows it to be equal to that of last year. Except in Illinois the condition of the hogs appears to be about the same as at the same time last year, but many advanced.

Southern Historical Society.

The Richmond Dispatch of the 3rd inst. has the following in regard to this Society: "The Executive Committee of this Society, at a meeting held on Saturday, made arrangements to actively push their important work. They have been fortunate in securing Gen. Wade Hampton to enter at once upon an active canvass for extending the membership of the Society and collecting material for its archives. They are arranging with some of the ablest men who figured in the council-chamber, the Cabinet, and the armies of the Confederacy to prepare for the Southern Magazine, the organ of the Society, papers bearing upon the civil and military history of the great struggle, thus bringing to light many things which have been forgotten or are forgotten, and making most important contributions to the truth of history. They have also arranged to have in Richmond, during the coming winter, a series of popular (free) lectures by some of the most distinguished men in the South on topics bearing upon Confederate history. And they are making earnest appeals to all interested to help on the good work by contributing such material as they may have or can secure."

Newspapers.

Their value is by no means appreciated, but the rapidity with which people are waking up to their necessity and usefulness is one of the significant signs of the times. Few families are now content with one newspaper. The thirst for knowledge is not easily satisfied, and books, though useful—yes, absolutely necessary in their place—fail to meet the demands of youth or age. Our country newspaper is eagerly sought, and its contents are eagerly devoured; then comes the demand for the city news, national and foreign news. Next to the political comes the literary and scientific journals. Lastly, and above all, come the moral and religious journals. All these are demanded to satisfy the cravings of the active mind. Newspapers are also valuable to material prosperity. They advertise the village, country or locality. They spread before the reader a map on which may be traced character, design and progress. If a stranger calls at a hotel he first inquires for the village newspaper; if a friend comes from a distance the very next thing after family greeting, he inquires for your village or country paper, and you feel discomforted if you are unable to find a late copy, and confused if you are compelled to say you do not like it.

Newspapers are just as necessary to fit a man for his true position in life as food or raiment. Show us a ragged, barefooted boy rather than an ignorant one. His head will cover his feet in after life if he is well supplied with newspapers. He will make his mark in the world if you gratify that desire for knowledge. Other things being equal it is a rule that never fails. Give your children newspapers.

Eight Lives Saved by a Dog.

A number of years ago, a vessel was driven on the beach of Lydd, in Kent, England. The sea was rolling furiously. Eight poor fellows were crying for help; but a boat could not be got off, through the storm, to their assistance, and they were in constant peril, for any moment the ship was in danger of sinking. At length a gentleman came along accompanied by his Newfoundland dog. He directed the animal's attention to the vessel, and put a short stick in his mouth. The intelligent and courageous dog at once understood his meaning, sprang into the sea, and fought his way through the angry waves towards the vessel. He could not, however, get close enough to deliver that with which he was charged—his own underdone steak—was small, and they made fast a rope to another piece of wood, and threw it towards him. The noble animal at once dropped his own piece of wood, and immediately seized that which had been thrown to him; and then, with a degree of strength and determination scarcely creditable for he was again and again lost under the waves, he dragged it through the surge, and delivered it to his master. A line of communication was thus formed with the vessel, and every man on board was rescued.

Forty-five families have recently been compelled to remove from Wilmington, Delaware, to other places, in consequence of the late panic, and there is not a city in the Union which has not in some form or other felt the deplorable results of the failure of that leading Radical house and Government agent, Jay Cooke & Co., and of the houses which were compelled to follow that one into the dark and gloomy land of suspension.—R. D.

From the 26th of August to the 26th of October, there were 734 deaths from yellow fever in Shreveport—624 whites and 100 blacks. In Memphis the number of deaths from yellow fever from September 14 to October 30th was 1,150.

The telegraph has announced the death of the venerable Bishop Early, of the Methodist Church, at Lynchburg, Va., on Wednesday, at the advanced age of 87 years.

The most extensive family wedding on record occurred the other day, in Cincinnati. A widowed mother, three sons and two daughters were all married at once.

DIED.
In this place, on the 11th inst., LENA, daughter of Joseph and Sarah Reich, aged 2 years and 12 days.

THE WEATHER.—Since the late cold snap of a few weeks since, the weather has been delightful. Such weather at this season of the year cannot last long, however, and if the weather-wise predict correctly, it would be well enough to prepare for a hard winter. Wednesday, cool and rainy.

GREEN APPLES.—Our market has been well supplied with fine green mountain apples, for several weeks,—the greater part of them from beyond the Blue Ridge.

MOUNTAIN BEEF AND BUTTER, of good quality, are coming in, and he who has the greenbacks can eat and be joyful.

RUN OVER.—C. J. Gossett, colored, who was run over on the Railroad, near Greensboro, was badly bruised, but not fatally injured.

THE COPPER MINES.—We noticed some half-dozen fine teams hauling machinery from Guilford county, through this place, destined for the copper mines in Ashe county. Several wagons passed Monday, and we learn from a reliable gentleman from Ashe county, that the copper ore is very rich and apparently inexhaustible.

All that is required to develop the valuable resources of Western North Carolina is capital, skill and energy. We hope the time is not far distant when our beautiful and desirable section of country will attract immigrants of capital and intelligence.

SUPERIOR COURT.—This is the first week of Forsyth Superior Court, Judge Cannon presiding with his usual ability. There is nothing of much interest going on. The resident lawyers, as well as Messrs. Staples, Jacob, Robbins, Gilmer, Poindester, Dillard, Smith, Glenn, King, Pinnix and others are present and attend to a fair share of business.

The suit against the Forsyth County Commissioners, in the Railroad matter, has been continued.

BISHOP ATKINSON preached a highly interesting and instructive sermon on Tuesday night, in the Moravian Church.

The Elm Street Sunday School has received a donation of Library Books through the instrumentality of Rev. P. A. Strobel, District Superintendent of the Bible Society. The school is highly pleased with the books.

R. A. WOMMACK & Co., have removed to the Vogler Building, where the public will find a well selected stock of General Merchandise.

The old stand of Borer & Crist, lately occupied by Wommack & Co., is one of the best retail stands in Salem. Mr. Wommack built up a splendid trade in this building during the past few years. There is a comfortable residence in connection with the store-room, which can be rented.

STOKES COUNTY.—The Danbury Reporter informs us that the Report from the Commissioners appointed to build a Bridge across Townfork, near Walnut Cove, was presented before the board and the amount for building said bridge of one thousand and forty-five dollars ordered to be paid.

CHOLERA AND PAIN-KILLER.—The efficacy of Perry Davis' world renowned PAIN-KILLER in all diseases of the bowels, even in that terrible scourge, the Asiatic cholera, has been amply attested by the most convincing authority. Missionaries in China and India have written home in commendation of this remedy in terms that should carry conviction to the most sceptical, while its popularity in communities nearer home is ample proof that the virtues claimed for it are real and tangible. The PAIN-KILLER has been before the public over thirty years, and has won a deservedly high reputation as an alleviator of pain and a preserver of health. It has become a household remedy, from the fact that it gives immediate and permanent relief. It is a purely vegetable preparation made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of over thirty years—the average life of man—it stands unrivalled and unexcelled, spreading its usefulness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame.

I write you to certify that I have used DR. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR in my family with complete success.

ASIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost every Case Cured With PAIN-KILLER!

DEAR SIR: During a residence of some ten years in Siam and China, as a missionary, I found your PAIN-KILLER a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge the Cholera.

In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a tea-spoonful of PAIN-KILLER in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then, after about fifteen minutes, bring to give about a tablespoonful of the same mixture every few minutes until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the PAIN-KILLER, clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the Cholera, and took the medicine faithfully, in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.

REV. R. TELFORD, Missionary in China.
DEAR SIR:—During a long residence in China I have used your valuable PAIN-KILLER, both in my own family and among the Chinese, and have found it a most excellent medicine. In the summers of 1862 and 1863, while residing in Shanghai, I found it an almost certain cure for cholera, if used in time. Indeed, using it in a great many instances, I do not remember failing in a single case. For three years I have been residing in this place, more than fifty miles from a physician, and have been obliged often to fall upon my own resources in case of sickness.

These Chinese come to us in great numbers for medicine and advice. Though without medical knowledge ourselves, the few simple remedies we can command are so much in advance even of their physicians, that we have almost daily applications. We allow them to come, because it brings us in contact with them and opens a door of usefulness. In diarrhoea, colic, vomiting, cholera, coughs, etc., your PAIN-KILLER has been my chief medicine. Yours, respectfully, REV. T. P. CRAWFORD, Tungchow, China.

Those using PAIN-KILLER should strictly observe the following directions:
At the commencement of the disease, take a tea-spoonful of PAIN-KILLER, in sugar and water, and then bathe freely across the stomach and bowels with the PAIN-KILLER clear. Should the diarrhoea and cramp continue, repeat the dose every fifteen minutes. In this way the dreadful scourge may be checked and the patient relieved in the course of a few hours.

N. B.—Be sure and get the genuine article; and it is recommended by those who have used the PAIN-KILLER for the cholera, that in extreme cases the patient take two (or more) tea-spoonfuls instead of one.

The PAIN-KILLER is sold by all the Druggists and Dealers in Family Medicines.
Price, 25 and 50 cents and $1.

To every person in the land, rich or poor, high or low. How to use money to the greatest advantage in the purchase of the necessities or luxuries of life, is a problem worthy of serious and constant attention.

In the second place, they should understand their business so thoroughly as to enable them to purchase their goods at the LOWEST POSSIBLE FIGURES, and in the third place they should sell to their customers at a REASONABLE PROFIT.

We hope that our many friends will accord to us the possession of the above requisites for good merchants, and with full determination to maintain our good name, and to inspire continued and increased confidence in our experience, fairness and devotion to business, we beg leave to announce the opening of the
